The Belles Not So Naked Choir!

Get happy with a singing work out!

16th March

What the Dickens Entertaining drama.

What a fabulous Christmas party we had complete with cocktails, nibbles and entertainment. Members danced the night away to music provided by Michelle Ward and there was some dubious entertainment when the committee took to the stage!

The photo frame was a great success—what a photogenic lot we all are!

Please take a look at this year's resolutions ahead of this evening's meeting—see page 33 of Nov/Dec edition of WI Life.

Be sure to renew your membership this month. Last chance Ladies.

Happy New Year Belles!

Well, it's shaping up to be a fabulous year at the Belles. Tonight we're going to have fun and have a relaxing evening. Next month we're going to be titillating your vocal chords! And over the course of this year we have much, much more for you. But for now, sit back and enjoy your evening of Fun & Games.

Big Belles Wishes,
Jane xxx

Group News

Why not beat the January blues and join one of our regular groups?

Craft Group

Members enjoyed a post Christmas meal which Carol kindly arranged at The White Horse and now look forward to being shown how to create Valentine Heart from an old hard back book at the next meeting. No more eye strain as our new venue provides much better lighting.

Darts

Darts practice has resumed after a short break as players need to get match fit. Everybody is welcome to join in—it's a very sociable evening at The Cherry Tree on Thursdays.

Book Group

The Belles Bookworms meet monthly to discuss a chosen book and to enjoy a drink in Ye Olde Green Dragon in Shenfield. The first book chosen for 2016 is 'The Girl in the Red Coat' a debut novel by Emma Hamer. Everybody welcome.

Heading Out

The walking group head out on the third Monday of the month for a 3 to 4 mile walk somewhere fairly local. Details of the next walk are posted on the website. Just turn up at the meeting point with appropriate footwear and join in with this gentle exercise. There's often a coffee at the end.

Lunch Group

A chance to get to know one another better as we sample the menu at a variety of restaurants and pubs. Details are announced at meetings and deposits are generally taken a month in advance.

Happy Hookers

An informal group of crocheters (hookers) and knitters who meet at The Spread Eagle on Monday afternoons to enjoy a knit 'n' natter.

Notices

The next lunch is on Tuesday 26th January at The Eagle in Ongar Road. On this occasion, deposits are not required. Please note that if you would like fish then this must be pre-ordered. See Beryl and Vena for more information.

Carol and Marion are planning trips for this year. The first trip of 2016 is on 13th February to the Liberty Exhibition which is on at the Fashion and Textile Museum .

West End Belles are going to see Sunny Afternoon on 27th January. Enjoy!

The Challenge Cup Limerick Competition

Something new!

This month we invite you to get creative and compose comic verse in the form of a limerick. The topic is New Year . Don't be shy! We look forward to hearing your entries.
